Street Consent Application – Note Regarding Offences

All unspent convictions must be disclosed. Spent convictions are defined in the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974, a note of which follows. If you are in any doubt as to whether a conviction is spent, you should either consult a solicitor or declare it on the application form.

Explanatory Notes on the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974

This Act provides that after a certain lapse of time convictions for criminal offences are to be regarded as “spent”.

An applicant need not disclose spent convictions and the Council may not take them into account when deciding upon an applicant. Sentences of imprisonment exceeding 30 months duration can never be treated as spent and must be disclosed however long ago they were imposed. Certain periods of time that must elapse in other cases before the conviction becomes spent are set out below.

For custodial sentences Sentence length	New rehabilitation period is period of sentence plus the ‘buffer’ period below which applies from end of sentence
0 - 6 months	2 years
6 - 30 months	4 years
30 months - 4 years	7 years
Over 4 years	Never spent
For non-custodial sentences	New period (will apply from end of sentence)
Community order & Youth Rehabilitation Order	1 years
Fine	1 years (from date of conviction)
Absolute discharge	None

The periods of time which must elapse in other cases before the conviction becomes spent vary considerably according to the nature of the offence and other circumstances.

The commission of a further offence during the rehabilitation period may, for example, extend the rehabilitation period.

Please note that some sentences may be reduced by half if the offender, at the time of sentencing was under 18 years of age.

Further guidance on this subject may be obtained from the Home Office publication “A Guide to the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974”.
